Erratum

Two errors appeared in the article, "Pseudochoolinesterase Levels and Rates of Chloroprocaine Hydrolysis in Patients Receiving Adequate Doses of Phospholine Iodide" (ANESTHESIOLOGY 52:434-435, 1980). On page 434, in the Materials and Methods section, line 10 should read, "pH 7.6, as buffer. Activity is expressed as nano- . . ." In table 1, the significance of differences between means for chloroprocaine should read " $0.01 < P < 0.05$ " [not  $0.01 > P > 0.05$ ].
